VISIT OF LAWMAKERS

COMMITTEE AT THE NORMAL

A PLEASANT ENTERTAINMENT AND GOOD SPEECHES.

The Students Acquitted Themselves With Distinction and the Members of the Legislature Said Some Notable Things in Their Speeches—Senator Aycock as the Nemesis of Taxation.

The legislative committee visiting the State Normal and Industrial College, arrived in the city last evening at 6:25. They went in a body to the Guilford, where, after supper they took carriages for the College. They were met at the depot by President McIver, Prof. Joyner and others. Some of the members came direct from Raleigh and some had spent the day at the University. In the company were:

Senators E. Y. Webb, of Cleveland; Stephen McIntyre, of Robeson; B. F. Aycock, brother of the Governor, of Wayne; W. P. Wood, of Randolph; William Lindsey, of Rockingham, and Representatives F. M. Shannnonhouse, of Mecklenburg; W. S. Wilson, of Caswell; S. L. Gates, of Gates; F. L. Carr, of Green; T. E. Whitaker, of Guilford; G. E. Wood, of Wayne; E. F. McCulloch, of Bladen; Chas. Ross, of Randolph and F. M. Brown, of Caswell.

The entertainment by the students of the College was very simple, but one of the prettiest and most effective that could be imagined. As the members of the committee were ushered into the hall the College orchestra struck up "The Old North State," and the immense audience which already filled the large hall responded with cheers. The first part of the entertainment was a representation, "Past and Future, a History and a Prophecy of Education in North Carolina," the author of which is Mr. R. D. Douglas, and the stage setting of which was done by Mrs. B. C. Sharpe and Prof. C. R. Brown. The following were the dramatic personae:

Father Time.....Miss Francis Womble
Old Century.....Miss Alma Pittman
Education.....Miss Christina Snyder
Carolina.....Miss Carrie Sparger
New Century.....Miss Nettie Parker

Then came a chorus representing the three departments of the College work: Normal, Commercial and Domestic, followed by a tableaux suggesting the work of the various State institutions for educational work. In this were the University, the Normal, the A and M, the Deaf, Dumb and Blind institutions, and lastly, the schools for the colored race. After the exercises of the students, Dr. McIver announced the names of the members of the Legislature present, and stated that they would be glad to speak with all who desired to meet them. He then asked Senator McIntyre, of Robeson, as Chairman of the Senate Committee on Education to make a few remarks.

Senator McIntyre's Speech.
Senator McIntyre made a really good speech. He said the committee was glad to be here and proud that the institution is so well thought of by the people. More members of the Legislature was in the party of visitors than went to the University.

The last century was given over by our people to the accumulation of property and the education of the boys. But just at its close a few great hearts and heads of men like the one at the head of this institution got concerned about the education of the young woman, and this committee is glad to be now at the fountain head of the resulting effort in her behalf. And in this, the first year of the new century, earnest men have determined that the heads and hearts of the young women and the young men shall be placed above the dollar. They have sworn it, and it shall be done. All along the line the things that hindered have been brushed aside, and in less than twelve months a sight will be witnessed never before seen in North Carolina. That sight will be the Governor of our State going up and down it making a campaign for education. We need all our State schools from the University down, and the denominational schools. Let them all join hands and go forward. Dr. McIver, the president of this noble institution, went over the State pleading for the girls who never had a chance. The students of this institution cannot be less zealous. Let us not forget the little boys and girls. The great cause has fired my heart, let it fire yours.

Mr. Whitaker Speaks.

At the conclusion of Mr. McIntyre's speech, Dr. McIver stated that Judge Connor, the Chairman of the House Committee could not be present, but the man next to him on the committee, Prof. Whitaker, of Guilford, was present. Prof. Whitaker responded to the invitation and said that he felt as if he had gotten home. He was not, he said, a native of the county but came here and found the dearest woman on earth. (Some one had said that he visitors were all single men. So when Prof. Whitaker made the above remark, there were cries of "he's married, he's married, he's given it away.") This somewhat confused the amiable gentleman from Guilford but he relieved the situation by saying, "Well I am not ashamed of it, Senator McIntyre is a married man too, and he didn't say whether he was ashamed of it or not."

When we went to the University we told the boys to ask for what they wanted and we would give them what we could. But we feel like saying to the girls: name anything you want and you shall have it if we can give it. I point to the girls and boys of North Carolina and say, "These are her jewels."

Senator Webb Speaks.

Senator Webb, of Cleveland, being called on, said that he felt like Dr. McIver did when Dr. Deems, who was teaching a school in the same town, invited him over to an entertainment and invited him to speak. He was not as good a speaker then as he is now, and as far as he got was, "I sympathize with Dr. Deems in his work." Tonight I sympathize with the work and bid it God-speed.

You have swept us off our feet. We have come here and seen your work in pantomime, and it has so impressed us that I fear we will want to give you all the help and not enough to the other schools. If we were to go back to Raleigh tomorrow and vote we would bankrupt the State.

Many of you will be teachers. Let those who go in the lowly places be not discouraged, but remember that their calling is one of the three most powerful influences that shape men's minds. And remember that no flower is "born to blush unseen."

A Funny Speech.

Senator Wood, of Randolph, who came next, has a daughter in the institution. He made the lively speech of the occasion and kept the large audience in an uproar.

He said that he had never felt better in his life than he had today, but he never felt worse in his life than he did at that moment. "I don't know what I am going to say and I don't care. If you had told me that you were going to call on me I would have gotten my little piece ready to say. I believe in education more than anybody in North Carolina but I don't believe in the kind that teaches the new fangled ideas that the earth is round. I believe that it is as flat as a pan cake. I never saw such a crowd of girls in my life. Most large crowds of girls have some in them that are not so pretty, but every one in this crowd is prettier and sweeter than the other one. I like to be up here, there are so many bright eyes to look into. Senator Aycock wants to be up here right now. These Senators won't know what they are voting on for a week after they go back to Raleigh."

Aycock, the Friend of the College.

Dr. McIver again arose and said that there was one Senator present who was indeed a friend of the College. He was there when the first brick was laid; he had been on the board of trustees as long as he could be, and when, during the construction of the second building the money gave out, he with others used his own credit to carry on the work until the State came to its senses—Senator B. F. Aycock, of Wayne.

Senator Aycock made a stirring speech, strong in thought and vigorous in expression. Senator Aycock's heart is as big as North Carolina itself and as he spoke for the boys and girls of North Carolina the great audience instinctively felt that the words fell from the lips of a man of noble aspirations. He began by saying that he did not know at first why Dr. McIver was so anxious for him to come on this trip, but when he recollected that he was chairman of the finance committee he knew what that massive brain and eagle eye were on the lookout for. "He wants me to raise the taxes. I now notify the men that they are going to be taxed. This will make them all mad with me but I know the women will stand by me. No man in the world is a better friend of this institution than I am, and no one loves it as much as I do, and I'm prouder of it than even its President is. The work has been started and must go on I never had any education myself. When I ought to have been getting it I was in the field making corn to feed the wives and children of the men who were following Lee and Jackson. I hope no boy or girl will be forced to go into the world with as little education as I had. As a North Carolinian I say here and now that the time has come when no boy or girl in North Carolina shall fail to read and write. Is it a fact that when the year 1908 rolls around that one boy shall be deprived of his right to vote, for want of the ability to read and write? God forbid. There must be no selfishness in this great work. It must all go along together. We are building on the foundation that requires all to read and write. You've got the Governor, you've got the Legislators, all we need is the money, and we must have that. We must tax. I'm here to talk taxes. That's my business. The old State must be banded in nothing. A state is what we make it. If we take a poor and ragged child and make a great, strong and useful North Carolinian out of him, we are all proud of him, taxes or no taxes. The poor child can make a great man or woman. Young ladies, when you go home help the struggling little schools of your neighborhood. Visit them and encourage them. Do all you can to help the boys and girls. When the children below are educated this institution will be overrun and Dr. McIver will require two stenographers to write to applicants that they cannot come. There will be no more drumming for students by the college presidents. Begin at the bottom. We promised it last summer and we will do it. We will do all we can for this institution. I wish we could give it $1,000,000. I told the people of Greensboro if they would tax themselves for this school their town would grow, and now look at its magnificent progress. You Greensboro people, whom I love, and who have been so greatly benefited must not grumble at being taxed. I don't want to hear a word from you."

When Senator Aycock had spoken, Dr. McIver arose and remarked that he had only one word to say. That was that he was glad to hear one man in politics say that the highest expression of statesmanship should not be a demand for low taxes. That the people who are moving in North Carolina are moving from where taxes are low to where they are high. After the speaking an hour was given to social discourse. The committee spent the day today in visiting and examining the work of the College. Some of them returned at noon to Raleigh. The most of them remained over and visited the A. and M. this afternoon.

To Attend the State Council.

The State Council of North Carolina, Jr. O. U. A. M., meets in Winston tonight. A large number of members of the order from different sections of the State passed through Greensboro last night and today enroute to the meeting.

NIGHT ASSAULT IN CITY LIMITS

ATTEMPTED HIGHWAY ROBBERY ON SUMMIT AVENUE.

Mr. Sternberger Attacked From the Rear, Knocked Down and Dragged to the Bushes—Robbers Frightened Off.

Last night at half-past nine, Mr. H. Sternberger, of the Revolution Manufacturing Company was knocked down on Summit Avenue, and but for the arrival of help, would have been robbed and probably killed in a clump of bushes to which he was dragged near the avenue.

As Mr. Sternberger came down the avenue near the railroad crossing he passed two negroes, not paying any particular attention to them. After he had passed they sprang upon him, and knocked him down with a pair of knucks. They then seized him and dragged him from the sidewalk to a nearby clump of bushes. Mr. Sternberger, fortunately was not rendered unconscious, and began screaming for help. Some men from the mill were in the vicinity and ran to his assistance. The assailants were frightened away before the men got to them.

Mr. Sternberger was not seriously hurt, but his escape was wonderful. It is certain that he was hit with knucks, for Chief of Police Scott found a pair on the scene of the attack. This was a most bold attempt, and Chief Scott will certainly give it the attention so serious an offence demands. If anybody can nail them he will. Mr. Sternberger had no unusual amount of valuables upon his person.

To be Married Tomorrow.

Mr. J. Wilson Shaw left this afternoon for Sanford, where tomorrow at noon he will be united in marriage to Miss Ida M. Clapp, at the home of the bride's sister Mrs. J. E. Clifton, in that city. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. M. D. McNeil, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Sanford.

The marriage will be quiet one, and only the family and immediate friends of the contracting parties will be present.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Shaw will leave for their future home in this city.

Mr. Shaw though a resident of this city but a short time, has made many friends. His prospective bride is a young lady of many charms, and has many friends in Sanford.

Another New Building for South Elm Street.

The Odell Hardware Company will shortly begin the erection of a handsome three-story building adjoining their store on South Elm street.

It will be 140 feet in length and 18 feet in width, inside measurements. The first floor will be devoted to offices, and the space now occupied by the offices will be utilized in the storage of more hardware.

The design for the front of this new building has not yet been selected but it will be handsome in appearance and will add to the architecture of the street. Mr. Sam Browne has the contract for the building, and it will be put up in first-class shape.

Mr. Fry Secures the Appointment.

In the competitive examination held Saturday for the cadetship in the naval academy at Annapolis, Mr. Howell C. Fry, of this city, stood highest, and Mr. J. Matt Lindsay, of Madison, second. Mr. Fry thus receives the appointment with Mr. Lindsay as alternate, and will therefore become a student if he succeeds in standing the entrance examination, which he will without doubt, as he is a fine student.

Mr. Fry is a Greensboro boy and has many friends here, who rejoice in his good fortune. Five applicants in all were examined, the papers being graded yesterday.

Mr. Floyd Coble spent last night in the city, leaving this morning for Danville.

TOMORROW AT TWELVE O'CLOCK

THE FATEFUL HOUR AT THE BAR OF THE SENATE.

The House Appoints a Committee to Present the Impeachment Resolution, and Another to Prosecute the Trial. Special Dispatch to The Telegram.

Raleigh, Feb. 19.—The House this morning elected nine managers of impeachment. They are Allen, Craig, Graham, Hayes, Spainhour, Roundtree, Nicholson, Shannnonhouse and Seawell. This committee will prepare articles of impeachment and conduct the trial before the Senate.

The speaker appointed the following committee to impeach the judges at the bar of the Senate at noon tomorrow: Winston, Ordrey, Blount, Zachary and Carlton. Winston will be spokesman.

A bill passed incorporating the Southern Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Charlotte.

A bill was introduced in the Senate by Broughton, to prevent the running of four wheeled caboose cars.

The anti-cigarette bill passed third reading with the $20 tax provision eliminated.

Lively Times Above Us.

The gentle zephyrs floating down from a mountain metropolis above us on the C. F. & Y. V. waft upon their bosom the fragrance which emanates from a gay old time up there. It is said that a series of unusual scandals have occurred right recently, but have been guarded with great care from the newspapers.

One story says that two married men have lately played truant for a week in company with the white culinary artists attached to their households, and refreshing scenes occurred when they came home and reported that they had seen off on business.

Another report speaks of a very shady business transaction, while a third, the most sensational of all, has it that two women of the town, in good standing, had a street fight, in which one attempted to shoot the other with a pistol. Both the women were boarding at the hotel. Silverware was missed in frequent succession, and at last, after a search, a quantity of it was found in the trunk of one of the women, who was in reality a kleptomaniac. But when the goods were discovered she promptly said that the other woman had a grudge against her and put the articles in her trunk on purpose to spite and humiliate her. After this the two women met in the street and fought savagely. After the fight was over, one of them was yet unsatisfied, and got a pistol and proceeded to hunt her enemy.

No names come with the reports, and the name of the town is not given lest the reports be partly untrue and an injury worked upon the town.

The Iconoclast at Work.

The thing of use and beauty is going, going, going. Like all the beautiful and useful things of this world, it has served its day and generation, and like all things that have lost their usefulness, it must be relegated to the rag bag. Alderman Denny set a crowd of men with picks and shovels upon the poor, helpless, beautiful, thing this morning, and within a week the passerby that has known it for years will have known it no more. What is it? Why just think of the most useful and ornamental thing that runs down the centre of South Elm from the Court house square to the depot, and you have it.

Have Trebled Their Output.

The Greensboro Broom Works have recently added to their equipment sufficient machinery to treble their output. They are now prepared to turn out from 150 to 200 dozen brooms per week. This factory has been in operation only a short time, but is already meeting with a good measure of success.

Mr. W. W. Workman returned last night from Benaja, where he has been enjoying what he calls a "quail hunt." He reports having captured twenty-two.

Uncle Sam Browne was at the station last night to meet a little girl from the orphanage, who spent the night here on her way to Madison, to which place she went today.

TWELVE YEARS

IN ENGLISH DUNGEON.

The Fate of Mrs Maybrick, a Beautiful American Girl Who Married An English Rake.

Florence L. Tucker in Atlanta Journal.

It is to be hoped the clemency of Edward VII in the case of Mrs. Maybrick will be actuated by another motive than, has been suggested, gallantry toward the sex, or as acknowledgment of American sympathy on the death of the late queen. The world that for twelve years has followed the case of this helpless woman could receive no more pleasing evidence of equity and humanitarianism in the new sovereign than would be afforded by his liberation of this poor unfortunate. Pardon was hardly the word, since her guilt at the time of trial was never proven, and all the accumulated evidence since goes to establish her innocence. It is a curious instance of the power of one man's dislike as more potent than the convictions of a jury, and the force of English law. Justice Stephens, the presiding judge at the trial, had conceived a bitter prejudice against the defendant, and his charge, which lasted two days, was of such a nature that the jury could not do otherwise than return a verdict of "guilty." That he shortly afterward became mad and died a lunatic, a circumstance however suggestive to unbiased minds, tended in no way to effect the decisions of the courts. In a land of strangers, unknown save to the few her husband had chosen to introduce to her, this young woman—made before she was 19 the bride of a rascal of 44—became, under sentence, no better and with no more liberation than the actual and friendless criminal of the common people, the commutation from capital punishment to imprisonment for life being the result only of the intervention of Sir Charles Russell, since Lord Chief Justice of England.

Florence E. Chandler was the daughter of a successful banker in Mobile, Ala. On both sides of her house she is descended of good old lines; among her distinguished ancestors are numbered a bishop of Illinois, a chief justice of the supreme court of the United States, and the illustrious founder of Andover Seminary, Samuel Phillips. Reared in luxury and receiving all the advantages of wealth and refined surroundings, her education was superior, and upon her entrance into society at the age of 17 she was admired and loved. By her marriage not two years afterward with James Maybrick, Esq., of Liverpool, England, who had dissipated health as well as fortune, in reckless living, she became a "British subject, amenable to British law," and never since has she been able to touch one cent of what was hers by inheritance, her property becoming her husband's and only in event of his death reverting in part to her, and in part to their two children—a distribution which was never made.

James Maybrick died on the 11th of May, after an illness of about two weeks. Mrs. Maybrick, exhausted with nursing, took her bed, and even before a post mortem examination had been made Edwin and Michael, brothers of her husband, accused her of having caused the death by administration of arsenic, and the first inquiry of the magistrate was held in her sick room. From there, and before she was able to walk, she was taken to jail. During her twelve years' close imprisonment she has been "transferred from one prison to another, and in such transference she has been placed in irons like the most desperate murderer."

Mrs. Maybrick's aged mother, who had become the Baroness Caroline de Roques, in undertaking to prove her daughter's innocence, enlisted the sympathy of many influential Englishmen, who, in their thorough and painstaking investigation, have discovered much that was valuable of the domestic life of the Maybricks, and more particularly of Mr. Maybrick. In an article written five years ago by Margherita Arlina Hamm on the "Women's International Maybrick Association," of which she herself is a member, she says, "Among these (discoveries) she found that Mr. Maybrick had weakened his system and his constitution by dissipation; that for years, both before and after his marriage, he had lived largely upon stimulants and Magnetic Massage.

It is a settled fact that there is no therapeutic agent known that will combat and overcome Consumption as the Magnetic Massage will. A massage is the scientific working up of every muscle, ligament and fibre of the body. When disease, whether Consumption or any other, attacks your body there is no danger from it providing your system is in a natural, healthy condition and you care for it, nourish and protect, and exercise it as when in perfect health.

A working and stretching and expanding of the tissues and muscles is always necessary to a healthy condition and it is when you neglect these, and then abuse yourself by exposure, and so forth, in that you open the door to the ravages of such disease as may be seeking for admission to your system. If disease has already gained admission then it is that a scientific massage will begin to repel it and restore you to your original condition. That a person may give massage treatment effectually he or she must have a thorough knowledge of the anatomy of the body, otherwise they might do more harm than good. Magnetic massage is the giving of massage with the magnetic hand, that is with the hands magnetically heated. Professor MacNight gives magnetic massage with his hands at a temperature of one hundred and ten degrees of magnetic heat. This is not a heating of the hands by the fire or by any artificial means, but a natural magnetic heat of one hundred and ten degrees. Let some person afflicted with consumption or any other trouble imagine how invigorating it would be to their cold clammy bodies to have instilled in them an healthy heat of one hundred and ten degrees. And if they are suffering with a fever heat of say one hundred and three, let an healthy magnetic heat of one hundred and ten be instilled into their system and their temperature will come to the normal point in short order. A perfectly natural heat of one hundred and ten will destroy an unnatural or fever heat of one hundred and two, three or even five degrees. This is common sense and if we use a little more of good common sense in the treatment of disease we would not suffer so much. The testimonials given in this paper of those who have suffered for years and taken loads of drugs and truck ought to satisfy any one. But in case it does not come and try our common sense treatment and see for yourself. We cure and that is all there is to it, and we do it without any drugs or artificial means. We use nature, and nature alone can cure disease.

The Hamner School of Science and Healing, High Point, N. C., will give any person fifty dollars for a case of stomach trouble that they can not cure in thirty days.

A Message from One Who Knows.

"I want to say to all of my friends as well as those who are strangers to me," said Mrs. Joseph R. Haden, of High Point, N. C., "that I have suffered with a general consumption of the entire body for five years, and have been under the continuous treatment of four different doctors of medicine during that time up to the first of the present year. About four weeks ago I heard of Professor MacKnight's wonderful cures and after talking it over with my husband concluded to try his treatment. It seemed strange to us that he could cure disease without medicine, as we have always used medicine to cure disease. My doctors of medicine told me that they could not help me and there was no remedy for my ailments. I had constipation in the most malignant form and had suffered with it for five years. I could not eat because of the bad condition of my stomach, and a good night's rest I had not had for years. I had cold feet all the time and it seemed that fire would not relieve them. For the last two years I suffered with spinal trouble and severe headaches, and had a cough nearly all the time. I was reduced in flesh to nearly one hundred pounds, from one hundred and thirty, and could scarcely stay out of bed a whole day at a time. I also suffered with womb trouble and could not get relief. I have now closed the third week of treatment with Professor MacKnight of the Hamner School, at High Point, N. C., and am so much improved that I feel the best that I have felt for over four years. Up to the time that I began taking treatment of Professor MacKnight I was addicted to the use of snuff, and thought that I could not live without my snuff. For one week now I have not used snuff and I now hate it as bad as I loved it before I took Professor

Greensboro Telegram.

The Greensboro Publishing Company

R. F. BEASLEY, Editor and Manager

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 19.

To the gentlemen of the visiting committee: Please convey to your colleagues in the Legislature the information that the State's institutions located at Greensboro are doing their work grandly, that the people of this city, who perhaps know them better, love them, if such a thing were possible, more than others do, and that our people are ready at all times to do all in their power to aid in their work.

TO BUILD SIDEWALKS.

The Telegram is requested by Alderman Denny, chairman of the street committee, to say that the city has put in a large order for Fayetteville pressed brick, especially made for sidewalk construction, and that just as soon as they arrive citizens who desire to build sidewalks in front of their residences may buy for this purpose.

The city is now beginning the grading of the streets and sidewalks of the resident portions of the town. This is badly needed, and comes none too soon. It is a work usually neglected by towns and cities. Most of them desire to improve the most prominent streets for the purpose of making the best show possible. Greensboro, long famed as one of the most popular residential towns of the State, will, for the present, pursue a different course. The streets leading to the homes of the people will be improved. The city should find a hearty cooperation in this work on the part of the citizens who are property owners. Why, it is too patent to say. The law may be invoked to enforce the property owners to put down proper sidewalk material after the city grades and prepares the walk for brick or other composition, but it is to be hoped that this will not be necessary. Property owners should welcome this opportunity to enhance the value of their real estate and to add to the attractiveness of our city.

We trust that no injunction will be invoked to restrain the hands of the street force which this morning began the work of removing the old car track from the middle of South Elm.

We must remark that the Speaker of the House rose to the occasion today in appointing Winston as impeachment spokesman to appear at the bar of the Senate. It is according to the fitness of things.

Death of Dr. Robertson.

Dr. Robert Franklin Robertson, who for several days has been critically ill with pneumonia at his home on Church street, died last night about seven o'clock. The funeral conducted by Rev. E. W. Smith, occurred this afternoon at four o'clock from the First Presbyterian church, and his mortal remains were laid to rest in Greene Hill cemetery.

Dr. Robertson was a brother of the late Dr. D. A. Robertson, and with his brother for many years he had the only dental office in the city. In recent years his health had been so shattered as to prevent his actively engaging in his chosen profession.

He was a gentleman of the old school, and was loved and respected by all who knew him. For twenty years he had been a ruling elder in the First Presbyterian church, and for many years previously had been a deacon. He was an active worker in the Sunday school, for many years a teacher and assistant superintendent.

He was conscious until the last and repeatedly gave expression of his willingness to go when the Saviour should call.

He leaves a wife but no children.

Important Meeting.

All persons interested in proposed legislation seriously affecting corporations are invited to meet with the executive committee of the Industrial & Immigration Association at 8 o'clock this evening in the Greensboro National Bank.

TWELVE YEARS IN A DUNGEON.

narcotics; that he had consumed immense quantities of alcoholic drinks, Fowler's solution of arsenic, arsenic wafers, arsenic drug; that during the four weeks preceding his last sickness he had used heavy amounts of whiskey and brandy, quinine and callosays, cocktails and 'pick-me-ups,' and arsenic in two or three different forms, and also upon seven or eight occasions had eaten undue quantities of indigestible food, which would produce all the symptoms noticed during his last sickness; that the jury had been influenced by the judge's charge, and had rendered their verdict under the impression that they could not do otherwise."

The arsenic found in Mr. Maybrick's room, which in the absence of the nurse, his wife, at his direction, had mixed with beef tea, not knowing the nature of the powder, but had never been given because when ready the patient had fallen asleep—this, and the declaration of the expert who made the post mortem examination that he had found one-sixth of a grain of arsenic in the dead man's stomach, formed the only testimony against her. Without money, without influence and practically without acquaintance, in a country where justice was slow and difficult, the unfortunate woman was thrown into prison, the victim of malicious envy in the persons of her two brothers-in-law, a dose of violent prejudice upon the part of the judge who sentenced her. There, in close confinement and in broken health, she languished, till today, an old woman at 59, she waits in Alesbury prison where once more the white wings of hope are fluttering against the bars.

Womankind in England and America has brought the fight of the helpless and defenseless victim of wrong with steadily increasing force, but as yet nothing has availed against the impenetrable door of English law. To Edward VII they look now as a last and a new hope for the liberation of this innocent and unjustly imprisoned American woman.

Fearful Deed Near Atlanta.

Atlanta, Feb. 18.—The dead bodies of Mrs. H. M. Wilson, a young widow, and William Hamilton, a student in pharmacy, who disappeared from Atlanta one week ago today, were found last night, one mile from the end of the Chattahoochee river car line. The surroundings indicated that Hamilton had killed Mrs. Wilson, set fire to the woods near her body and then ended his own life. Both bodies were fearfully burned and rested upon breastworks thrown up by the Confederates to stem the advance of the Federal army on Atlanta in the war between the States. The bodies were found by two negroes, who, being unable to impress anybody with the truth of their statements last night did not press the matter further until today. Mrs. Wilson was lying by the side of a fallen sapling. There was a bullet hole through her right hand and another in the right temple. The left foot was burned entirely off, the flames had destroyed her hair and her left hand was almost burned off.

By the side of Hamilton was found a revolver and an empty cigarette box. There was a hole in Hamilton's left temple and a few inches from his left hand lay a small mirror, evidently used to direct the bullet. When Mrs. Wilson left her mother's home, one week ago, she wore only a morning gown of light material and a light dressing sacque. She was without a hat and her feet were encased in slippers.

Hamilton came to Atlanta from Mobile. His tuition and expenses at a college here have been paid by Mrs. H. M. Goodall, of that city, according to a letter to Mrs. Wilson. It is thought Hamilton had been devoted to Mrs. Wilson for some time, but her parents assert that she gave him no encouragement.

The claim of other cough medicines to be as good as Chamberlain's are effectually set at rest in the following testimonial of Mr. C. D. Glass, an employe of Bartlett & Dennis Co., Gardiner, Me. He says: "I had kept adding to a cold and cough in the winter of 1897, trying every cough medicine I heard of without permanent help, until one day I was in the store of Mr. Houlehan and he advised me to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and offered to pay back my money if I was not cured. My lungs and bronchial tubes were very sore at this time, but I was completely cured by this remedy, and have since always turned to it when I got a cold, and soon find relief. I also recommend it to my friends and am glad to say it is the best of all cough medicines." For sale by C. E. Bolton.

HAMNER SCHOOL OF SCIENCE

MacKnight's treatment. After the first treatment by Professor MacKnight, my bowels have been perfectly natural and this is the first time that has occurred in five years, I never got even temporary relief from the use of medicine. I was always worse after taking medicine. I wish I had nothing to do but go out and tell the poor sufferers that are being fooled as I was with the use of drugs, how easy it is to be cured without drugs, and at a very small expense, by professor MacKnight and his assistants at the Hamner School. I have now gained ten and one-half pounds and I feel better than I have for five years. I did not know that Professor MacKnight was treating me for the snuff habit until I began to dislike snuff, and then I wondered what was the matter. The Professor then told me, and since that time I have not used snuff in any form. I now hate it. I would advise all who are in any way afflicted to take their treatment, as it is simply wonderful, and its results are grand."

There are more than twenty persons right here in High Point, who have been cured of fifty and had habits by Professor Mac Knight at the Hamner School, and any of them can be seen by simply asking.

Bad Habits Cured.

The greatest menace to society and the greatest curse to the young man of this age of progression is the acquirement of such habits as the morphine, tobacco, liquor cocaine, opium, and a host of other habits equally as obnoxious and damaging to the system as well as their propensity to detract one from social circles and business affairs.

These habits are easily cured, and one who is addicted to any one or more of them can be easily cured thereof. The Hamner School of Science and Healing of High Point, N. C., is the only institution that effects absolute cures of these habits and makes their cures permanent in this part of the country. Many people of High Point can and will cheerfully testify to the efficacy of their treatment, and all join in saying that now after taking their treatment that they hate the drug they once loved and feel that the evil effects they once felt from it are all gone and they are fully restored to their natural self. Whole families have been cured by Professor Mac Knight in a very short space of time, and the cures made permanent.

A few of these patients who testify to the effect of this treatment will no doubt suffice to readers.

The Why and Wherefore.

Editor Telegram:—I have been repeatedly asked how and upon what theory our treatment cures diseases and habits. I feel that I may be doing our readers a kindness to set forth briefly in your paper the "why" of these results. That the results are very gratifying is beyond question and when I look over the once desolate homes that we have made happy it does my heart good to think that we are in possession of such a grand science and can use it to benefit suffering humanity, as well as teach it to others.

The theory of our science is this, briefly stated: The law that controls our personal magnetism is that natural law known as the law of vibration. We find that the movement of all atoms is a vibratory one, and so extremely rapid that, in a designated time, is capable of attaining a number of vibrations that is almost incomprehensible to the human mind.

We learn that there has been recorded by our fathers of science a table showing the lowest vibrations of any movement of atoms to be two vibrations a second, and on up to almost numberless numbers. Thirty-two per second produces the lowest sound that can be heard by the human ear, and 32,768 per second produces the highest sound that can be distinguished by the human ear. Then we learn that 1,048,576 is the lowest, and 34,359,738,368 per second produces the highest sound that can be distinguished by the human ear. Between these two we tune the wires of the piano and the strings of other instruments and produce any pitch or tone of music that we wish. Then we have a production of 33,554,432 as the lowest, and 34,359,738,368 as the highest vibrations per second that occupies a space that produces electricity. From these last vibrations electricity is produced in its lightest and heaviest forms. The next we find recorded is 1,099,511,627,776 as the lowest for this step and 35,184,372,088,832 vibrations per second as the highest. This step produces something that has not yet been fully determined, but that it produces some force and that which is more subtle and powerful than electricity to the scientific mind. Then we have another step that produces a maximum vibration of 36,028,707,018,963,968 vibrations per second, and yet another one that produces a maximum vibrations of 2,305,763,009,213,693,952 per second. It was nearly at the last that Roentgen, the great German scientist, produced the renowned X-ray. Now we have loosely run over the extent of the movement of atoms per second by force of the law of vibration. Now when we look upon the human body—a mass of atomal matter—governed and controlled by this law of vibration, we cannot help but wonder what effects could be produced by this law if it was made use of as fully as the human mind might make use of it. Vibrations produce light, for example, four hundred and fifty trillion vibrations per second produces red light, while seven hundred and fifty trillion vibrations per second produces violet light. Yet these are very common to us. Now all atoms of whatever nature vibrates. Our bodies are in a stage of vibration all the time. This vibratory movement of the body produces results that are well known to the most ignorant person. If one is out in the cold and becomes uncomfortably cold and chilly, he will instinctively whip his arms and shake his body to warm himself. Now what does he do? Simply calls upon the natural law of vibration to increase its vibratory movement and thereby produce heat; he becomes warm, thereby. This law of vibration is not carried and conducted by the atmosphere we breathe, but has an Universal Ether of its own, which conveys, transfers and controls it. The theory, as I have said, of our science is based upon this natural law. The influence that one person has over another is the effect of their Personal Magnetism conveyed upon this Universal Ether to the other person, and this influence, or substance, is finer than air, more subtle than thought and more powerful than electricity. It is the Magnetic Electricity of the human body, and is used in various ways, and may be used almost without limit in extent and variety, as we progress in knowledge in this life.

Some ask, "how do we know that this Personal Magnetism exist?" This is very easily illustrated by a few common place incidents. Go in a car filled with people, a church or any other place and take a seat in the very rear part of the building, and look intently and steadfastly at the back of the neck of any person in the place, and couple with your gaze the thought that he or she will turn around and look at you, and in less than five minutes that very thing will occur. What does it? Your own personal magnetism is conveyed to the person upon the Universal Ether, and the vibrations of it attracts their own self, and they look to see what calls them. Again your friend has had a long ride today in a cold wind, and as a result has neuralgia in the face. Your friend's vibratory system is low, cold has entered, and pain the result. You wish to relieve him of the pain. You know these things. You at once set about to increase the vibrations in your friend's face, this creates warmth, not of an artificial nature, but of a natural kind, and the pain leaves—nature expels it—you merely assist nature. This personal magnetic influence may be exercised at a distance as well as in close proximity and what we will do with it in the future remains to be seen. That we cure disease with it now is certain. Our science is nature's own mighty work, and we are the agents put here by our Creator to make use of it just we make use of water, air, electricity, the mind with which we think, and many other natural forces. Every part of our being, every thought we possess, every atom of our bodies, as well as all creation, is directly under the control of this grand and mighty law. When we rebel against it we fight and combat one of God's inflexible laws, and it is because of our ignorance that we do so. Never did a new discovery of Natural Law or Science come to light, but what the old school ignoramus fought against, and tries to set up their own insignificant ideas in the place of Natural Law. We now have a science of Natural Law with which we combat disease, and that successfully, too, in the place of the old, or artificial one of medicine; and common sense tells us that we prefer natural means to artificial ones. We drive out pain with the infusion of Natural Magnetism and heat, while the old way is to give a dose of morphine to paralyze the nerves so that you cannot feel the pain, and then take your chance on becoming a morphine fiend. Which is the best? Let common sense answer. No one will dispute the power of electricity, yet if you had told our forefathers fifty years ago that such wonders lay in the natural force of electricity that was stored up for man to develop, one would have pronounced you insane. But now we have it in many forms, and powerful enough to do most anything with. Yet we find that Personal Magnetic power is of a much finer and higher order of forces than electricity, and is, therefore, more powerful and potential than that much used force. Both come from the natural law of vibration only. Personal Magnetism is of a much finer and higher order, as I have said. Why do the physician use so many forms of electricity with which to treat patients, when they possess a natural magnetic battery in their own bodies, that is many times more powerful and natural than the battery made by man. All they need to do to cure with the use of their own bodies is to learn how to control and generate their own magnetic force and impart it to others. The day is not far distant when every person will be their own magnetic battery, and such a thing as artificial means will be a thing of the past, and we will look back to those old school ways as the products of ignorance. WE MUST YIELD THE ARTIFICIAL FOR THE NATURAL.

Mr. Editor: This is only a glance at the science we teach and practice, and space will not permit of a full exposition of our grand and noble cause. Let us hope that the future will bring forth further developments, and even if it does call the lovers of the old way from their old beaten path, let us hope that they will take the step and be progressive, as we must progress if we wish to advance in knowledge. A fair trial and a full investigation is all we ask. Give us that trial.

Yours truly,
HARRY MACKNIGHT,
Professor at Hamner College, High Point, N. C.

AN ANCIENT BELIEF.

The ancients believed that rheumatism was the work of a demon within a man. Any one who has had an attack of static or inflammatory rheumatism will agree that the affliction is demoniac enough to warrant the belief. It has never been claimed that Chamberlain's Pain Balm would cast out demons, but it will cure rheumatism, and hundreds bear testimony to the truth of this statement. One application relieves the pain, and this quick relief which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by C. E. Holton, Druggist.

RHEUMATISM—CATARRH—DISEASES CURED BY B. B. B.

It is the deep-seated, obstinate cases of catarrh and rheumatism that B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) cures. It matters not what other treatments doctors, sprays, liniments, medicated air blood purifiers, have failed to do, B. B. B. always promptly reaches the real cause and roots out and drives from the bones, joints, mucous membrane, and entire system the specific poison in the blood that causes rheumatism and catarrh. B. B. B. is the only remedy strong enough to do this and cure and so there can never be a return to the symptoms. Don't give up hope, but try B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) or 3 Bs.

For sale by druggists and Howard Gardner, in Greensboro, at $1 per large bottle, or 6 large bottles (full treatment) $5. To prove our faith in B. B. B. we will send a trial bottle free to sufferers, so they may test the remedy at our expense. Address Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga.

The most soothing, healing and antiseptic application ever devised is DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It relieves at once and cures piles, sores, eczema and skin diseases. Beware of imitations. Howard Gardner.

A POWDER MILL EXPLOSION

Removes everything in sight, so do drastic mineral pills, but both are mighty dangerous. Don't dynamite the delicate machinery of your body with calomel, croton oil or aloes pills, when Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are gentle as a summer breeze, do the work perfectly. Cures headache, constipation. Only 25c. at C. E. Holton's drug store.

WHAT HE SAW.

1. Lion—Pshaw! I don't see a thing in that golf game.

2. Oh! what a jolt!

A MONSTER DEVIL FISH

Destroying its victim, is a type of constipation. The power of this murderous malady is felt on organs and nerves and muscles and brain. There is no health till it's overcome. But Dr. King's New Life Pills are a safe and certain cure. Best in the world for stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Only 25 cents at C. E. Holton's drug store.

A powerful engine cannot be run with a weak boiler, and we can't keep up the strain of an active life with a weak stomach; neither can we stop the human machine to make repairs. If the stomach cannot digest enough food to keep the body strong, such a preparation as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure should be used. It digests what you eat and it simply can't help but do you good. Howard Gardner.

NO RIGHT TO UGLINESS

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at C. E. Holton's drug store.

they can do everything that we can do, if they will only try. We have some graduates who are performing some of the most wonderful cures that ever were known, and they astound the world. Our science is a perfectly natural one and any form of disease, chronic or otherwise, as well as habits are easily cured. Many students are simply astounded at their own work, and surprise their friends with their work. Our women students find a very profitable work and a pleasant one too in the treatment of diseases peculiar to women. All forms of female trouble cured in a very short space of time, and all our cures are permanent.

We can use several good students at a good salary now, as our work for the sick is now increased to such magnitude that we must have more help. We are the only college in this country that furnishes our graduates with profitable employment as soon as they are graduated. Some of our graduates are making a splendid salary working for themselves. A new class will be opened for the spring and as we have had so many applications for a night school that we have concluded to inaugurate a night class for the benefit of those who cannot attend in the day time, so as to give all the same chance. Board and rooms for both patients and students furnished on application, at very reasonable terms.

PERSONAL MAGNETISM PROPER Or the Magnetic Control of Others.

A new book on an old subject, but containing new rules for the acquirement and development of that wonderful power in man, Personal Magnetism. There is no fact better known in scientific circles than that Personal Magnetism is the power that brings man or woman success in any undertaking in life. There are scores of books and magazines annually cast upon the market telling us of the wonderful powers of this mighty agent—Personal Magnetism and not one has ever been offered that tells us how to acquire this wonderful power.

Professor MacKnight, principal of the Hamner College, of High Point, N. C., and a recognized authority on occult science has just completed a neat little volume, containing one hundred and one rules covering every phase of this subject, and which is welcomed by every scientist in the world, has supplied the profession with a work that contains the gist of years of active experience in any phase of the acquirement and use of Personal Magnetism. The country is full of schools and professors who teach the use of this power, but no one has, or can tell us how to acquire and develop this great power.

This is just what Professor MacKnight's little book does. It is needed by every library, professor, teacher and student. The practical operator ought to be in possession of every rule laid down therein, as they are of daily use.

By the use of these rules a person may, although he or she may appear to be devoid of this power, acquire and use it to the greatest advantage. By the use of these rules one may acquire and use Personal Magnetism in an almost unlimited degree.

Some of the things that may be acquired and made use of by this little book are the following: It will make the poor lawyer a good one; by means thereof the lawyer wins his jury and convinces the court. It is the power by means of which the public speaker pleases and holds his audience. It is the power that makes the unpopular preacher popular, and by which he holds his congregation. It is the power that makes a poor salesman a good one. It is the power by which the successful teacher rules and controls his students without rule or rod. It is the power that makes one healthy and popular. It is the power of success and upon which every successful person depends, either consciously or unconsciously.

The first edition will not last long, and a second edition is demanded. The first edition has been selling for five dollars but the second will be sold for ten dollars. Order now and secure one of the first as there will be no deviation in price.

One of these in your hands and used means health, wealth and success. Address The Hamner College, High Point, N. C.
